8. Algo Trading Software :

Algo Trading, short for algorithmic trading, refers to the use of computer algorithms to execute trading orders in financial markets. Algo trading involves creating and implementing pre-defined sets of rules and instructions that automate the trading process, eliminating the need for manual intervention.

Algo trading works on engines that receive and process market data in real-time. These programs use mathematical models, technical indicators, and historical data to identify trading opportunities. Once a predefined condition is met, such as a specific price level or trend pattern, The algorithm automatically starts its work by generating and executing trade orders.
